The Columbian.

VOL 26. BLOOMSBURG, PA., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1891. NO. 40

A new pump has been placed in the town well at Main and East street.

Dentler's store front in dark brown and gold presents a fine appearance.

F. D. Dentler was appointed foreman of the Grand Jury.

Camp Fire at Oak Grove, Saturday afternoon and evening, Oct. 3d.

W. R. Kocher & Co., have just completed a large coal dock at Orangeville, near the B. & S. depot.

Rev. J. W. Messinger of Scranton will preach in the Evangelical church on next Sabbath evening at 7½ o'clock.

E. P. Albertson's hotel at Central has been painted recently and presents a fine appearance.

H. H. Hulme's new barn on his Benton township farm is completed, and is one of the largest and best in the county.

Our thanks are tendered to our numerous patrons who called upon us for receipted bills this week. We hope to see more next week.

E. A. Rawlings has painted a portion of the town red. It is only that portion, however, which is occupied by the front of his meat market.

The Directors of the Poor District have appointed Drs. Arment and Redeker physicians for the poor for the next ensuing six months.

The Choral Society meets every Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in Y. M. C. A. Hall. All singers are invited to attend. No election is necessary, and no initiation fee is charged.

J. G. Wells has increased his already excellent facilities for turning out work by employing an expert watchmaker and engraver. Also has procured a very fine polishing lathe.

Mrs. Zerwinsky of Jamison City, recently went to Germany to spend two months, but came home after a stay of only two weeks. She prefers America for a home.

There will be a Camp Fire held at Oak Grove Saturday afternoon and evening for the benefit of the Sons of Veterans. Bean soup, hot coffee, ice cream, &c., will be furnished. Dancing in the evening. Good music will be furnished.

Mr. Samuel Neyhart started Thursday for Citico, Monroe county, Tenn., where he will be engaged in a survey for a railroad company. He spent last summer with the same party and has been recalled to further extend the railroad. He will be absent six weeks or two months.

On Monday morning as C. B. Jackson Esq. was about to present a petition to the Court asking for a transfer of liquor license from August Thiel of Berwick to Reuben Bolig, a telegraph messenger handed him a telegram, and on opening it, it was found to contain an announcement of Bolig's death.

Mr. and Mrs E. D. Hughes desire to express their thanks to the pall bearers at the funeral of their son, William Snyder, and the proprietors and employees of THE COLUMBIAN office, and to the relatives, for the beautiful floral offerings, and to all the friends who have shown so much kindness in their bereavement, and especially to Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Billmeyer for tendering the use of their house for the funeral services.

It will not do for the Republicans to attempt to crawl out of the very deep hole they are in, by saying that the action of the Governor in calling an extra session of the Senate to investigate the charges against the Auditor-General and State Treasurer is only intended for a Democratic campaign bluff. The issue has been forced upon them, and they must meet it in some other way. The Governor has done his duty, and the people know it.

The Presbytery of Northumberland will meet in Bloomsburg, next week in the Presbyterian church. The session will open on Monday evening at 7.30 with a sermon by Rev. R. H. Davis of Orangeville. The meeting will continue over Tuesday and Wednesday. On Tuesday evening, Home and Foreign missions will be presented in several interesting addresses by persons previously appointed. It is quite a long time since this body has been convened in this town and will no doubt awaken an interest in many who do not belong to this branch of the church, as all the meetings are open to the public.

WILLIAM A. SNYDER.

The subject of this notice was born in Bloomsburg on July 15, 1870. He was the son of Charles W. Snyder, and Emma H. and a great grandson of the late Daniel Snyder Sr. His father died in 1880, and in November 1885 his mother married Mr. E. D. Hughes of Scranton. After receiving a fair common school education, he entered THE COLUMBIAN office on April 20, 1885, to learn the printing trade, and remained there for three years. He was an industrious, conscientious boy, of good habits and excellent qualities. He was governed by the principle that all his time belonged to his employees during business hours, and they were entitled to all the work he could do, regardless of what some fellow-employee might consider a fair day's work. He was one of the best boys ever employed in this office. In 1889 he went to Tacoma, Washington, and was clerk in the post office for a time. Since then he has lived in Portland, Oregon, San Francisco, and Salt Lake City, at which latter place he died on Wednesday, September 23rd, of typhoid fever, after an illness of six weeks. The remains were brought to Scranton on Monday of this week, accompanied by Mr. E. I. Parks of Salt Lake City, a member of the Typographical Union, and roommate of the deceased, and reached Bloomsburg in the evening train, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Hughes. They were taken to the residence of F. P. Billmeyer, Esq., and funeral services were held there at two o'clock on Tuesday, by Rev. W. T. Auman. The floral offerings were beautiful.

Mr. Snyder was a young man of much promise, and his early death is a severe blow to his devoted mother and loving friends. The remains were placed in the Snyder family vault, in Rosemont, enclosed in a metallic casket.

At Salt Lake City a special meetiug of the Typographical Union, No. 202 was held on the 24th, and resolutions of condolence were passed showing that the deceased was an honored and respected member of the Union. A number of beautiful floral offerings were contributed by the several chapels and a committee attended the remains to the depot.

Dr. S. S. Shultz Dead.

Dr. S. S. Shultz, Superintendent of the Danville Insane Asylum, died September 27 in the 62d year of his age. About three weeks ago he took to his bed suffering from nervous prostration. Dr. O. F. Harvey, of Wilkes-Barre, was summoned to the sick man's bedside. His administrations were of no avail, however. The Superintendent sank rapidly. Dr. Shultz often said he would die of some nervious ailment.

He was a sensitive man and took criticism deeply to heart. Anna Dickinson's incarceration in the asylum and the publicity that attended her subsequent departure caused him a great deal of worry. About two months ago one of the attendants kicked an insane patient to death. This caused the public press to call for an investigation of the asylum. This grieved the superintendent considerably. He had eleven hundred patients under him, and he always boasted about good care they received and the freedom of the asylum from casualties of all kinds.

Dr. Shultz was considered an expert in insanity cases. He was the first superintendent at Danville, being appointed when the asylum was built. He was a good citizen and universally liked by all classes.

Mr. T. E. Kennedy and Miss Martha Coleman were united in marriage at Bloomsburg by Rev. Father McCann on Tuesday afternoon. The waiters were Mr. Edward Flynn and Miss Anna Kennedy. From here the party was accompanied to Jamison City by S. A. Goodhue, John Deemer, Thomas Cadow, Esther A. Fritz, Mollie Braker, and Mrs. John Kennedy. The Jamison City cornet band met them at the depot and escorted them to Proctor Inn, which was brilliantly illuminated. The streets were lighted with red and blue lights. Sixty-five invited guests were present from Jamison City, Lopez and Laporte, and an elegant supper was served in the spacious dining hall of the hotel. After supper dancing was indulged in in the dining room, the music being furnishrd by the Jamison City orchestra. It was a delightful occasion, and was thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

The managers of our Fair are making arrangements to light the Fair Ground with electric light as a better protection to property on exhibition and a convenience to those being obliged to remain on the ground in the evening and through the night.

THE DANVILLE RAPE CASE.

The trial of the men indicted for committing a rape on a girl named Andy in Montour county, began last week Wednesday before Judge Ikeler and his associates, at Danville. The commonwealth was represented by District attorney West and Judge Hinckley, and the prisoners were defended by Senator Herring and R. R. Little, Esq. The defendants were all convicted. On Saturday they were sentenced. The Danville Sun thus describes the scene:

Long before the court convened this morning the court house doors were besieged by a waiting multitude Friends of the criminals, friends of the law, friends of the poor girl whose sorrows won her the recognition of sympathy, friends of nobody who only came as ghouls to feast on the sorrows that the trial has developed and the sentence would create, — all stood waiting to enter the Temple of Justice. And when the doors swung open there was a rush for the best seats, and the chamber was quickly filled.

Some business that ordinarily would be deemed of interest, but that under the circumstances only excited impatience, came up for consideration first. Then there fell on the great throng a silence complete as in the Indies presages the approach of the dreaded Simoom,—for the rape case had been reached. The Judge spoke: "Let Anthony Rogers, John Rogers, Harry Crossley, and Tom Burke stand up!" They arose manacled as they were some of them pulling at the manacles that yet bound them to those whose sentence coming after, remained seated, Judge Ikeler said:

You have been convicted of a rape, a high and most detestable crime. More than two years ago you Andy Rogers, John Rogers, Harry Crossley and Thomas Burke, were convicted of a riot in this Court and through the mercy of the Court, and by your solemn promise to cease from the commission of crime we let you off with fine and costs. We were led to believe then that it was your first offense, and knowing that you were young and crazed by intoxicating drink, and industrious laboring young men for the support of your parents, with no reproach against your previous character or good behaviour we excused you. But you are now so soon before us again for a still higher crime. Congregating and starting from the same point you then did, the Reading station, frenzied and provided, now as then, with strong drink, you followed law-abiding citizens to a lonely spot, where in midnight darkness you assaulted the young couple and caused the young man Keiner to flee for his life; immediately after which your conduct towards the girl Andy whom, according to your own evidence, you knew was too indecent to describe in public. Andy Rogers called the girl by name and exclaimed "boys, she knows us, we must get out of here or we'll be arrested." Is it probable or even possible, that seven able bodied young, men companions and acquaintances, as you were, could quietly stand by within a few feet of the outrages admitted by you as being commmitted by Magill and Jacobs, and look on, and hear the girl scream and cry for "help" "help" for God's sake save me," and you make no united effort to rescue her! If there existed any natural sympathy for the safety of the girl, would you have fought about her and over her amongst yourselves and not for her? Would you have left her there with the four others and gone to your several homes and rested without having given the alarm? It seems unreasonable to us. Any man with a spark of human sympathy or kindness on the hearing of her cries and seeing the situation as described by yourselves, would have forgotten self, family and friends and regardless of consequences unhesitatingly rushed to her rescue.

You have betrayed our confidence, proved false to your promise of good behaviour, and there is no course left us in order to protect society, and if possible to reform yourselves, but to enforce the severe penalties of the law.

And then came the sentence, First on Anthony Rogers.

"The sentence of the court is that you, Anthony Rogers, are sentenced to pay a fine of one thousand dollars, one-seventh of the costs of prosecution, and that you undergo an imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary, in separate and solitary confinement, at labor for the space of fifteen years!"

There was a sound of applause, quickly repressed by the tipstaves. There was a shriek in the gallery among the women, followed by the sound of weeping, and a long pent up sigh released like a sudden breeze among sluggish leaves.

Then the sentence was passed on each of the other three. When John Rogers was sentenced, he fell back into his chair and exclaimed. "Why, take me out and hang me!" (The Judge after reverted to this remark by stating that less than 200 years ago, the court would have been compelled for the crime of rape to sentence the convicted to the death penalty, and that that penalty is yet in many quarfers of the world meted out for that crime.)

John Jones (colored) and Edward Whitehouse were next called up. The district attorney in these cases asked for mercy, as this was their first offense, their reputation was good, and the neighbors where these boys lived had petitioned him to intercede. Under the circumstances the Judge was more lenient yet sufficiently severe. He sentenced each of them to pay a fine of five hundred dollars and one-seventh of the costs of prosecution and undergo an imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary of five years solitary confinement at labor. Timothy Barrett, who had been recommended "to the mercy of the court" by the jury, received a sentence of one-seventh of the costs of prosecution, a fine of five hundred dollars and imprisonment at solitary confinement in the Eastern Penitentiary, at labor, for the space of three years and six months.

The sentences meet with public approval. As the judge said, the convicted "had a fair trial, in which the court had given them the benefit of every legal doubt, feeling it better and safer to err (if err it should) on the side of innocence," and the jury of intelligent men had come to the conclusion that they were guilty. They are but beginning their punishment. May their unhappy fate serve to deter others from the commission of crime!

BUCKHORN BLOSSOMS.

Mr. Christopher Kuster, an aged gentleman residing about two miles from town, last Saturday afternoon while at work in his barn, in some way slipped and fell from the mow to the floor severely injuring his spine. At this writing he is in a critical condition.

Our schools opened on Monday last with an unusually large attendance.

Dr. Jas. R. Montgomery is one of the most enterprising men of our town. He believes in improvements. He has purchased the old Harris store property and will move the old store back on a new foundation and build a new addition in front. The work is already under way.

The North Branch Conference of the Susquehanna Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church was held in the Lutheran Church at this place, September 28th, 29th and 30th.

What's wrong with Epworth League? Has it gone under? We haven't heard anything of it lately.

We have not Genius' gifted pen
Our thoughts in verse to tell,
Like the gifted Buckhorn poet
Who writes for the Sentinel.

He's a sort of a reporter
And a critic, all combined;
And to ridicule our boys
He seems to be inclined.

Now they say it isn't fair,
And it almost makes them swear,
So they're going to talk back
To that poet, white or black.

They hope to his next quotation
He will sign the appellation
That his mother calls him by.
Then they'll go to Buckhorn station,
And they'll give him an oration.

They will grasp him by the hand
And bring out the Buckhorn band.
And they'll then discuss his rhyme
And have a glorious time!

In writing verses we're not skilled,
With poetry our head's not filled,
So now we'll bid adieu to thee
And hope that "Punch" we soon shall see.

JUDY.

The case of Mrs. Hirlinger against William L. Hirlinger occupied the attention of the court on Monday afternoon. It was an action brought by the wife against her husband for support. A large number of witnesses were in attendance, including about a dozen ladies. The parties reside in Sugarloaf township. Mrs. Hirlinger stated that she was compelled to leave home by the cruel treatment of her husband. All the evidence showed that it was one of those unfortunate family affairs that ought not to have been brought before the public. Judge Ikeler dismissed the case, after giving some very good advice to both parties.

C. Mears expects to start Monday of next week for a trip to Raleigh, North Carolina, to attend the Southern Exposition and introduce his Washing Machine and Propeller Churn.

A small black and tan female hound belonging to Thomas Vannatta has been lost. Any information concerning it will be thankfully received by the owner.

A FATAL FALL.

On Wednesday afternoon about half past one o'clock, B. F. Savits fell from the roof of the Exchange Hotel to the ground, and was instantly killed. He was at work putting new tin in the water gutter. A young man named William Kelly was assisting him, and was but a few feet from him. He reports that Mr. Savits laid the tin along the edge of the projecting cornice, and put his foot on the tin to bend it down over the edge, and in so doing he stepped one foot out on the tin beyond the edge, and losing his balance was precipitated into the alley that leads to the stable, on the upper side of the Hotel. The tin, which was in a long strip, came down with him, and in falling struck the telegraph and electric light wires, and made a loud noise, attracting the attention of persons near by. Among these were E. P. Williams, Mr. Ratti, S. W. Dickson, Esq., W. B. Taylor and several others. Mr. Savits fell on his head and shoulder, and did not move or breath afterwards. Dr. Sharpless of Catawissa was near, and was one of the first to reach him. Blood was pouring from his mouth, nose and ears. The Doctor thought he discovered a slight fluttering of the heart, and directed the body to be carried into the sample room, where means of resuscitation could be more easily applied, and the great crowd which had collected could be kept back. When this had been done, a careful examination disclosed the fact that life was extinct His neck and shoulder were broken, and there was probably concussion of the brain. The body was placed on a cot bed, covered with a sheet, and borne to his home on Iron street, where less than an hour before he had parted from his wife and two children to go to his work.

The terrible news had been imparted to Mrs. Savits before the body arrived, by Mrs. William Gilmore, who had been requested to do so.

Mr. Savits was a plumber and tinsmith by trade, and for some years past carried on that business in the Opera House block, until a few months ago, when he sold out to W. O. Holmes. He was a good workman and an industrious man. For ten years or more he had done all the repairing on the Hotel roof, and was familiar with every foot of it His family was dependent on his labor for support, and they have the sympathy of the community in this sudden and terrible affliction.

He was a member of the Knights of the Golden Eagle, American Mechanics, and was First Assistant Foreman of Friendship Fire Company.

Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Lutheran church conducted by the pastor, Rev. P. A. Heilman assisted by Rev. W. T. Auman of the Reformed church.

THE CENTRALIA SCHOOL BOARD.

The School Board of the Borough of Centralia was before the court on Monday, on a rule to show cause why they should not be removed from office, for their failure to elect a sufficient number of teachers to operate the schools. Grant Herring represented the petitioners, C. G. Barkley and R. Buckingham appeared for G. W. Davis, D. E. Keller and Mr. Williams and R. R. Little appeared for C. G. Murphy, John Nertney and Edward Dempsey. S. N. Walker was appointed to take testimony, and part of the afternoon and all of the evening was occupied in offering evidence. The hearing was continued until the court gets through with the trial of cases.

Should the Board meet and agree in the meantime the matter will be ended, but in case they fail to agree, it will then come before the court for further action.

COMMUNION AND HARVEST HOME.

Next Sunday will be a great day in the Lutheran church. The Holy Communion will be administered in the morning with reception of new members and infant Baptism.

In the evening the children have their annual Harvest Home. Specimens of everything that grows will decorate the pulpit and platform and a responsive service by different parts of the school will be given, called "Thanksgiving and Thanksliving," and recitations and music by the little folks. Mr. B. F. Zarr, superintendent of the school and Rev. P. A. Heilman the pastor will each give short addresses. Every body heartily welcome.

Mrs. Sarah Clark, mother of H. J. Clark, died at Catawissa on Thursday morning, aged 91 years. One other son, G. W. Clark of Catawissa survives. The funeral will take place at the house on Saturday at half past one o'clock.

PLENTY OF TIME.

Plenty of Time—Plenty of Time!
O what a foolish and treacherous chime!
With so much to see, and so much to be taught,
And the battle with evil each day to be fought;
With wonders above us, beneath, and around,
Which sages are seeking to mark and expound;
With work to be done in our fast passing prime,
Can ever there be for us "plenty of time?"

Our schooling at most lasts a few score of years,
Spent in sunshine and shadow, in smiles or in tears;
While none are quite equal, howe'er they be classed,
And judgments too often are faultily passed.
'Twixt Eternity past and its future to stand
Like a child sea-surrounded on one speck of land,
There to work out the duties that make life sublime,
Oh, surely there can not be "plenty of time!"
—Camilla Crosland, in Chamber's Journal.

ON LAND AND SEA.

CLEANING OUT A GANG OF PIRATES.

During the year 1868 no less than three trading vessels fitted out at Singapore for traffic in the Java Sea mysteriously disappeared, and no trace of them could be discovered. Two more were added to the list early in 1869, and about July 1 it was whispered around that a nest of pirates had been discovered on an island off the north coast of Java. If the news was true the chieftain of the gang must be a bold fellow indeed, and needed looking after at once.

The merchants at Singapore were talking of fitting out a ship to investigate when H. M. cruiser The Shark arrived. She was one of the old fashioned 10 gun brigs once so numerous, and at that time was engaged in a survey of the south coast of Borneo, or about to be. As I was one of her crew I can relate what happened during the next two weeks first handed.

It seemed that the story of the pirate was accepted as a fact, for we overhauled our armament, took in a lot of ammunition, and strengthened our crew by 14 men before sailing. These men were drafted out of a crew belonging to a man of war which had been wrecked on the Malay coast, and all were old hands. The captain got his bearings from some source unknown to us, and when we left Singapore the brig was headed to the east. We jogged along down the coast of Sumatra for a week without any unusual incident, and though we spoke a score of crafts none of them had any information about the pirates. The crew had begun to ridicule the idea when something occurred to open our eyes very wide.

One morning, about an hour after daylight, we came up with a Dutch trader, which was taking care of herself. All her sails had been cut away, ropes were flying in every direction, and she was so low in the water that we wondered why she didn't go down. When a boat pulled off to her it was to find the captain mortally wounded and his wife and two sailors stiff and dead and horribly mutilated on the deck beside him. We got him off, but had no time to give the bodies burial before the little craft went down. The captain was a man about 40 years of age, and though hardly alive when we found him he rallied enough to tell his story.

The trader had been trafficking along the Java coast and had finally completed his cargo and headed for Singapore. Just at sunset on the previous evening he had been overhauled by a native craft carrying about 40 men. He was then about 10 miles off the coast and about five miles south of an island known as "Queen's Bower." He had no suspicion whatever of the natives, and the first thing he knew they boarded his craft and began to cut and slash. When they had finished the crew they began to plunder and strip the vessels, and were with her until midnight. Before leaving they bored her full of holes, and we had reached her just in time to rescue the captain. The first craft was joined by two others later on, and the three carried at least a hundred desperate fellows. The captain heard and understood enough to satisfy him that they were an organized gang of pirates and that they were also well equipped for their bloody business.

The island mentioned was not over 20 miles away, and as the Java Sea was and is a great highway, it did not seem possible that men would take such a risk as those pirates had. The trader said that no less than three friendly sails were in sight when he was attacked, but all too far away to signal, even if he had been warned in time to do something. Owing to the shoals surrounding the island our craft could not approach near enough to use her guns and shell the fellows out, and we were not strong enough to land from our boats and deal with them. The sight of an armed vessel nosing around would put the pirates on their guard, and so it was resolved to play them a Yankee trick. We ran into a bay on the coast and set to work.

You are probably aware of the fact that an English man of war, no matter how large or how small, is a pattern of neatness and regulation, and the cut of her sails will alone establish her identity while her hull is yet below the water line. We had, therefore, to undo and overhaul a great deal. We put everything in seeming confusion aloft, disguising her hull as much as possible, and when we left the bay The Shark had the look of a merchantman which had been through a typhoon and was too shorthanded to make repairs. The Dutch captain died on the day after we found him, and his last words were prayer that we might fall in with and punish the pirates.

It was just at daylight that we appeared off the north coast of the island and anchored on a bank about three miles from the beach. Men were sent aloft as if engaged in repairs, a boat was got down as if to work on the hull, and the bulk of the crew remained in hiding below. No doubt the fellows ashore had a lookout in some tree, and provided with a good glass he could see everything going on aboard. It was hardly sunrise when a small native craft with four men in her came out to within pistolshot of us to make an investigation. Our captain hailed them and they replied with gestures to signify that they would return to the shore for help. They evidently took us for what we pretended to be, and we were piped to breakfast feeling that our ruse would succeed.

About 8 o'clock, with the wind breezing up lively, three native sailcraft put out for us. A man aloft with a glass reported that each craft was crowded with natives, and it was now our plan to weigh anchor and make a little sail and pretend to be standing away from them as if alarmed. The object was to draw them as far away from shore as possible, and we had added a mile or more to the distance when the foremost boat came within hail. She hadn't a gun of any sort in sight, but she had 48 desperate looking villains in plain view, and every one of them had a cutlass and pistol. While her captain was hailing us in a language no one could understand, she was slowly edging along down upon our starboard quarter. At the same time a second craft was drawing ahead on the port side, and the third kept in our wake.

Only seven or eight men were in sight on our decks, and the natives seemed to have no suspicions of a trick. The breeze was a little bit too strong for their maneuvering at first, but after we were about six miles off shore the two suddenly closed in to board us. Our captain had been closely watching them and waiting for this move, and of a sudden the drum beat to quarters, and our decks were alive with men. I was captain of No. 3 gun crew and had the honor of firing the first shot. It was a solid ball, and it struck the craft on her port bow and went clean through her and dropped into the sea beyond. This opened the fight; the natives instantly realized that they had caught a Tartar, and they saw, too, that their only means of escape lay in capturing the ship. Therefore, instead of running away, as we had looked for, each craft bore down on us to board. They were handled as easily as an Indian maneuvers a canoe, and it wasn't five minutes after the first gun was fired ere they were on our quarters like wolves seeking to hamstring a deer. I fired another solid shot, and then loaded with grape, and this last charge was fired right into a mass of natives waiting to clamber up the side. The gun next to me fired a solid shot, which tore through her bottom, and two minutes later she foundered right alongside of us. The second craft got near enough to grapple, but the irons were thrown off, and two guns played solid shot into her hull until she went down stern foremost, leaving 30 men struggling in the waves.

The third craft had forged ahead, sailing five feet to our one, and would have boarded us at the bows but for the sudden destruction of the others. Their fate frightened her off, but she had scarcely laid her head for the island than it was brought around, as if her crew had made some desperate resolve. Now occurred a curious thing. She had about 30 men on board, and she came down on us with every one of them shouting and screaming and tried to lay us aboard. We could have sunk her with one gun even, or we could have picked off the whole crew with our muskets before they had crossed the rail. Word was passed to give her a full broadside at the word, and when the smoke cleared away she was not to be seen. There were over 20 of the pirates hanging to the wreckage around us, however, and a boat was lowered to pick them up. You can judge of their desperation when I tell you that every one of them fought like a tiger against being picked up, and that we got only five out of the lot. The others we had to kill as they floated about with the sharks snapping at them. Two of the five leaped out of the boat after being pulled in and were seen no more, and the others gave us so much trouble that the captain swung them up to the yardarm. Thus not one single man of the hundred or more who came out to attack us escaped with his life. I was in one of the two boats afterward sent ashore to see what sort of a lair the pirates had made themselves. The only human beings ashore were an old native woman, a one armed Javanese, and a white boy about 14 years of age. This boy was off an English trader captured the year before, and had been held prisoner ever since. He said there were 107 men in the gang, and we found enough plunder on the island to load our ship. They had captured about a dozen different vessels, large and small, and in every case had plundered and sunk them. They did not always kill all the crew. Soon after the boy was captured they brought in an American sailor off a spice trader. The boy knew him only by the name of William, but remembered that his home was in Boston. It turned out that they had spared his life to make use of him as a blacksmith, but when they found he had no knowledge of that work he was put to death. By order of the chief he was hung in chains on a tree about a quarter of a mile away, and was 11 days in dying. The boy went with us and showed us his bones still hanging.

The one armed man and the old woman, assisted by the boy, were the cooks for the gang. They at first seemed very much alarmed, and protested their innocence of any complicity in the crimes of the pirates, but when they came to understand that all the villains had met their fate, and that we had come ashore to clear the island of its last bale of plunder, they suddenly ran into a rude storehouse, blocked up the doorway with boxes, and opened fire on us with pistols. We had two men wounded before we could dislodge them, and they were then hanged to the same limb and their bodies left to the birds. What plunder we could not bring off we burned on the island, and before leaving we set the forest on fire in a dozen places, and the flames did not die out until the whole length and breadth had been swept clean of vegetation.

REMEMBER!

Remember, when the Dawn sets open wide
Her bright enchanted palace to the Sun;
Romember, when the Night, the pensive-eyed,
Comes dreaming under veils all silver-spun;
When thy bosom beats high with a pleasure supreme,
When the twilight allures thee to brood and to dream;
Hark! the forest profound
Has a voice in its sound—
"Remember!"

Remember me, when fate has drawn our ways
Afar, forevermore afar apart;
When sorrow, exile, and the flight of days
Have withered like a flower this breaking heart.
O forget not our parting, my love, and its tears!
Love laughs at the malice of space and of years!
While my bosom shall beat
Will its pulses repeat—
"Remember!"

Remember me, when, nevermore distrest;
This heart of mine shall slumber in the tomb;
Remember, when above its house of rest
Softly a solitary flower shall bloom.
Thou wilt see me no more, but my spirit shall be,
Like a sister beloved, forever with thee.
When the midnight is nigh
Thou wilt hear a voice sigh—
"Remember!"

The Camorrists in Naples.

The wholesale, cruel, mean pillage of the emigrants who arrive in Naples to embark is one of the proofs of the despicable character of the sect. They meet them on their arrival, mulct them of their clothes and cash, take them to the vilest lodgings, make them pay three or four times the proper price for shelter, food, or any articles they may require, even of the poor provisions, home made bread, wine, the cheese, and the sausage which is to be their sole companatico ou the voyage. This is the legitimate spoil of the Camorrists. But often an interloper despoils the emigrants of all they possess, even of the money which they pay for their voyage at the moment of departure. Sometimes the bona fide Camorra refunds the passage money, and the false Camorrist pays for his poaching on their manors. Sometimes the police track them; but though one gang in one quarter detests that in the next, they all protect each, and each protect all.

The worst feature of the relations between the Camorra and the emigration is that they have an organization for "shipping merchandise" which defies the police and the special agents employed by the government to detect them. A criminal escaping from justice or a fugitive from the leva—one of their own number who has made the place too hot for him—seeks assistance. Torre del Greco used to be a famous haunt. The Camorrists have friends everywhere among the "expeditioners," the carters, the cabmen, and we quite believe among the emigrant agents, the skippers, and the dock authorities. If the fugitive can afford it, the Camorrist procures him a passport under a false name, keeps him in hiding to the last moment, then accompanies him on board, making him pay very dearly for these services. If he has no means they pass him as a stowaway. When he lands in the United States, or even elsewhere, it is more than likely that the association has adepts at the landing places warned by cablegram—"So many bales will arrive by such and such a steamer."

The late law on emigration, one of the many beneficent laws which Francesco Crispi proposed and succeeded in passing in 1889, is extremely severe on the emigrant agents and on clandestine emigration. Heavy penalties are inflicted on companies, on agents, on ship captains who contravene the regulations, and certain it is that if the captain of the emigrant ship does not do so, fugitives and crimnals, as such, can not land from Italy on foreign shores. But there are other transports than emigrant ships, and the Camorra probably avail themselves of these.—Mrs. Jesse White Mario, in the Nineteenth Century.

How Names Grow.

It is currently related in New Bedford that several generations ago a ship was wrecked near there and only one boy saved. As they did not know his name they called him Johnny Crapaud, and the descendant of this boy was Congressman from Massachusetts, Hon. Mr. Crapo.

To these may be added the case of Judge Poland, of Vermont, of whom the story is told that his family were Poles and bore an unpronouncable surname; they were called the "Poles" and the "Polanders," so that the name gradually crystallized into "Poland." There is also the name common in the South, "Dabney," which is supposed by the aristocratic owners to be a corruption of the French "D'Aubigne," and probably first imported by some noble Huguenot exile.

All readers of Walter Scott are familiar with the village of Lasswade, near Edinburgh, the home of his early married life:

When there was nae brig to cross the Esk river,
On Jenny's braid back they a gaed thegither;
For Jenny was honest, stout, sober, steady,
She carried the Laird, she carried hir Leddy,
When he was richt seated, the doggie first gaed,
Then waving his stick he cried "Jenny, lass wade!"

Arsenic for Warts.

Dr. Paul Muller, of Hamburg, writing in the Allgemeine Medicinishe Central Zeitung, "can not sufficiently recommend" the internal use of arsenic in the treatment of warts on the hands. He has employed it for more than two years, and always found the warts disappear within three weeks.

Another practitioner, Dr. Pullin, who seems to have used arsenic for the same purpose somewhat longer, says that he has known it to cure warts in eight days. The dose ordered by Dr. Muller is only, at the beginning, two drops of liquor arsenicals three times a day for adults, and a quarter of a drop for children. These quantities are gradually increased.

There are 82 national cemeteries in the United States, and they have 337,179 graves, about one-half of which are marked unknown.

NEW ELECTION LAW.

CONTINUED.

SECTION 6. The certificates of nomination and nomination papers being so filed, and being in conformity with the provisions of this act, shall be deemed to be valid unless objections thereto are duly made in writing.

First. In the case of certificates and papers designed for the State at large, within thirty days after the last day for the filing of such certificates and papers.

Second. In case of other certificates and papers, except those designed for borough and township officers, within twenty days after the last day for the filing of such certificates and papers.

Third. In case of certificates and papers designed for the borough and township officers, within three days after the last day for the filing of such certificates and papers. Objections as to form or apparent conformity or non-conformity to law, of certificates or papers designed for the State at large, shall be filed with the Secretary of the Commonwealth, and shall be considered by him conjointly with the Auditor General and Attorney General and shall be decided finally by a majority of these officers. Objections of the same kind to other certificates and papers, except those for borough and township offices, shall be filed with the county commissioners and shall be decided finally by a majority of them. Objections of the same kind to certificates and papers designed for borough and township offices, shall be filed with the auditors and shall be decided by a majority of them. All objections as to the validity of certificates or papers other than objections as to form or apparent conformity as heretofore described, shall, in the case of certificates or papers designed for the State at large, be filed in the court of common pleas of Dauphin county; and in the case of all other certificates and papers, such obligations shall be filed in any court of common pleas within the judicial district of which such election district or division or part therof, for which such certificates or papers are designed, may be situated. In case the court is in session, one or more judges of the court shall immediately proceed to hear such objections without unnecessary adjournment or delay, and shall give such hearing precedence over all other business before him or them. In case the court is not in session, any judge of such court on the presentation to him of the certificate of the prothonotary that such objections have been filed as aforesaid, shall immediately proceed to hear such objections as aforesaid. Where there are more than one court of common pleas in any election district or division, such objections may be referred by the court with which they are filed, to any other court in such district, if such reference is necessary to secure a more convenient and speedy hearing; and all cases of dispute as to which of several courts is such district shall have jurisdiction, shall be immediately decided by the judge being oldest in commission in such district.

SECTION 7. Any person whose name has been presented as a candidate may cause his name to be withdrawn from nomination by request in writing, signed by him and acknowledged before an officer qualified to take acknowledgments of deeds, and filed with the Secretary of the Commonwealth fifteen days, or with the county commissioners of the proper county twelve days, as the case may be, previous to the day of election, and no name so withdrawn shall be printed upon the ballots.

SECTION 8. All certificates of nomination and nomination papers when filed, shall be open, under proper regulations to public inspection, and shall be preserved not less than two years in the ffices where they have been filed

SECTION 9 The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall, ten days at least previous to the day of any election of United States or State officers, transmit to the county commissioners and the sheriff in each county in which such election is to be held, duplicate official lists, stating the names and residences of and parties or policies represented by all candidates whose nomination certificates or papers have been filed with him as herein provided for such election, and have not been found and declared to be invalid as provided in section six, and to be voted for at each voting place in each such county respectively, substantially in the form of the ballots to be used therein. The county commissioners of each county shall also send to the sheriff of their county, at least ten days prior to the day of any election, an official list containing the names, residences and party or political appellations of all candidates, except those for election officers and school directors, whose nomination certificates or papers have been filed with the said commissioners as herein provided for such election, and to be voted for at each voting place in the county, substantially in the form of the ballots to be used therein.

Racing With Wolves.

Many a thrilling tale has been told by travelers of a race with wolves across the frozen steppes of Russia. Sometimes only the picked bones of the helpless traveler are found to tell the tale. In our own country thousands are engaged in a life and-death race against the wolf Consumption. The best weapons with which to fight the foe, is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This renowned remedy has cured myriads of cases when all other medicines and doctors had failed. It is the greatest blood-purifier and restorer of strength known to the world. For all forms of scrofulous affections (and consumption is one of them), it is unequaled as a remedy.

Reviving a Drowned Man.

A man, while fishing, suddenly fell into the water. A fellow-fisherman of benevolent aspect promptly helped him out, laid him on his back, and then began to scratch his head in a puzzled way. "What's the matter?" asked the bystanders. "Why don't you revive him?' "There are sixteen rules to revive drownded persons," said the benevolent man, "and I know 'em all; but I can't call to mind which comes first." At this point the rescued man opened his eyes and said faintly: "Is there anything about giving brandy in the rules?" "Yes." "Then never mind the other fifteen."—London Figaro.

Subscription Laws.

Dr. Tuckerman, editor of The Workman, Cleveland, has taken some pains to collect and compile the decisions of the United States court on this subject, and gives to the Washington Post, as the result of his investigations, the following:

First—Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary are considered as wishing to renew their subscriptions.

Second—If subscribers order the discontinuance of their periodicals, the publisher may continue to send them until all the arrearages are paid.

Third—If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their periodicals from the postoffice to which they are directed, they are responsible until they have settled their bills and ordered them discontinued.

Fourth—If subscribers move to other places without informing the publisher, and the papers are sent to the former address, they are held responsible.

Fifth—The courts have decided that refusing to take periodicals from the office or removing and leaving them uncalled for is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

Sixth—If subscribers paid in advance they are bound to give notice at the end of the time, if they do not wish to continue taking it; otherwise the publisher is authorized to send it, and the subscriber will be responsible until express notice, with payment of all arrearages, is sent to the publisher.

The latest postal laws are such that newspaper publishers can arrest any one for fraud who takes a paper and refuses to pay for it. Under this law the man who allows his subscription to run along for some time unpaid and then orders it discontinued, or orders the postmaster to mark it "refused," and have a postal card sent notifying the publisher, leaves himself liable to arrest and fine the same as for theft.

Don't Care What the Newspapers Say.

Have you ever met a man who doesn't care a blank what the newspapers may say of him, good, bad or indifferent? If you have met him, and the meeting chances to have been when the paper has made a little severe—if deserved—mention of him, you need not be told that he is the maddest man outside of a lunatic asylum. His contempt for newspapers is expressed in vehement maledictions and vows of vengeance on the head of the editor.

Possibly you have met him when something pleasant has been said of him. He doesn't care for such things, not he; but notwithstanding this indifference you have observed, no doubt, that he reads the landing paragraph over and over, and audibly wonders how the deuce those newspaper fellows manage to get hold of so many facts, and how they happen to know so much about him. He is pleased all over, and gives so much outward expression to his satisfaction that no one would ever imagine that he is one of the kind that don't care a continental blank what the newspapers say.

Let Us Hear from You.

If you have a bit of news, don't be afraid to send it to this newspaper. If friends from a distance are in town, let us know it. If you are about to make improvements of any kind, let us hear about it. If a former resident writes to you any news about himself, not of a private nature, it will also interest many others if made known through these columns. If you have a suggestion to make, or see a public evil, or an opportunity to benefit the people or town, we will give you space to make it known.

But don't send any item to which you would be ashamed to sign your name. Don't try to mix us up in any of your quarrels. Don't send us family affairs or troubles which should not concern outsiders. And don't get angry when we condense your items, or leave some of them out entirely. If we were to publish everything which reaches us, we would soon appear in court as defendants in a libel suit, so you must let us use our discretion as to what is available and what is not.

Editing by Legislation.

Minnesota editors are greatly exercised over a bill which has passed the state senate. The measure provides that all articles, editorials, items or written accounts printed in any pamphlet, periodical, magazine, newspaper, sheet, circular or handbill which shall therein purport to give an account of or give intelligence of any political, official, personal or social act, writing or speech of any human being, living or dead, reflecting in any way upon such person's character, shall be subscribed by the full name of the person or persons who shall have written or contributed to such publication. The penalty for violation of this law is a fine of not less than twenty dollars or more than $100, or imprisonment for not less than thirty days or more than three months.

A Check Upon Corruption.

The typical newspaper of today is far from being perfect, and none knows its deficiency better than those who print it. But when its imperfections have been named and criticised as they should be, the fact remains that it is today the greatest check upon political corruption to be found in the land. Years ago the sleepy organs that dozed while thieves plundered the treasuries might still hope for the public respect, but in this day they fail to serve the first purpose of the progressive journal, and an intelligent public so understands it.—Pottsville Miner's Journal.

The Patient Editor.

When a man takes a cigar out of his mouth to tell an editor to stop his paper because he "can't afford it," the editor may say nothing, but he thinks a great deal. And when he orders his paper stopped because he "hasn't time to read it," and then goes down and whittles a dry goods box for two hours, the editor may not say anything, but he thinks a great deal. And when he stops his paper because a two line item did not suit him and then pesters his neighbor by borrowing the paper, the editor may say nothing, but he thinks a great deal.

Pay the Printer.

When storm cavorts around your door,
And you, by light of taper,
Sit closely by the evening fire
To read your country paper,
Just think of him whose work thus helps
To wear away the winter,
And put this question to yourself,
"Have I paid the printer?"

EVERY PATRIOT

should read a good newspaper. In the selection of a newspaper many considerations should govern. First, it should be one that endeavors to give all the news without prejudice, It should be neatly printed on good paper. It should be independent—in favor of all that is good, upright, clean. Such a newspaper is printed in Harrisburg. It is under new management—enlarged, handsome, bold in the right fearless in denouncing wrong; is always and unswervingly Democratic. It is the only Democratic newspaper at the State Capitol. It makes a specialty of Department News. It is the only paper in Central Pennsylvania that receives and prints full Associated Press Reports, obtained by it over its own wires. It presents each day Special Correspondence from all points tributary to Harrisburg, all the Harrisburg News Fashion Notes, Household Hints Domestic Recipes, Society Gossip, Scientific, Humorous and Political Articles, Short Stories and Sketches. Its Market Reports are complete, both as to Finance and Commerce. Its Live Stock Markets are prepared specially for THE PATRIOT, and have only been successfully imitated by one other newspaper in the State. The Saturday Sermon of Rev. Dr. Spurgeon, of London, is a great feature.

The Patriot,

THE PATRIOT wants the rascals turned out or locked up. To this end it heartily urges the election of Wright and Tilden as the only means to stop the plundering of the public treasury.

THE WEEKLY PATRIOT, 8 pages, is only $1 a year. It maintains the best features of the daily, including the Spurgeon Sermon. First take your home paper, then it. Send for circulars and sample copies (free) of either daily or weekly.

EPPS'S COCOA

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk. PATTISON'S PROCLAMATION.

THE SENATE TO CONVENE OCTOBER 13TH.

Following is the full text of Governor Pattison's proclamation calling an extra session of the Senate, together with his letter to Chairman George Handy Smith, of the legislative committee appointed to investigate the offices of Auditor General and State Treasurer.

In the name and by the authority of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS, The Constitution provides in Article VI, Section 4, that all officers elected by the people, except Governor, Lieutenant Governor, members of the General Assembly and Judges of the Courts of Record learned in the law, shall be removed by the Governor for reasonable cause, after due notice and full hearing on the address of two thirds of the Senate;

WHEREAS, Grave charges have been preferred, involving the Auditor General and State Treasurer and most seriously reflecting upon the manner in which their official duties have seen performed;

WHEREAS, It is proper that diligent inquiry should be made to ascertain whether or not "reasonable cause" does exist for their removal;

WHEREAS, There is in the public mind a profound conviction that the officials referred to and some of their subordinates have been grossly inefficient, shamefully negligent and entirely wanting in due fidelity;

WHEREAS, It is the prevailing opinion that some of the officials connected with these offices have been guilty of absolute faithlessness and downright dishonesty, in violation of their oaths of office and of the criminal laws of the Commonwealth;

WHEREAS, If any one of the charges so made should be established, appropriate action looking to the removal of the officials involved should be taken by the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, as a duty to the people of the State, whose good name has been dishonored and whose money has been stolen, squandered and lost;

WHEREAS, John Bardsley, late Treasurer of the city and county of Philadelphia, is now a convict in the Eastern Penitentiary for embezzlement and misuse of public money, a larger portion of which would have been in the State Treasury long prior to an exposure of his transactions had those charged with the administration of the duties of Auditor General and State Treasurer performed them with due fidelity;

WHEREAS, John Bardsley's stubborn refusal to disclose any information whatever as to the conduct of these officials has compelled the abandonment of proposed criminal prosecutions at least for a time;

WHEREAS, A proper inquiry by the Senate may develop evidence sufficient to satisfy its members that 'reasonable cause' exists for the removal of the Auditor General and State Treasurer, and

WHEREAS, Under the Constitution the duty and responsibility of making diligent inquiry and of taking appropriate action in the premises are devolved upon the Senate and the power vested in the Executive to give the Senate the opportunity to act;

Now, therefore, I, Robert E. Pattison, Governor of the said Commonwealth, in the discharge of what I conceive to be my duty to "take care that the laws be faithfully executed" and by virtue of the power vested in me by the Constitution to convene the Senate in extraordinary session by proclamation for the transaction of executive business, hereby convene the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in extraordinary session on Tuesday, the thirteenth day of October, anno domini one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one.

Given under my hand and the great seal of the State at the city of Harrisburg, this twenty-sixth day of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one and of the Commonwealth the one hundred and sixteenth.

By the Governor:

ROBERT E. PATTISON.

WILLIAM F. HARRITY, Secretary of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER, Harrisburg, Sept. 26 1891.

PATTISON WRITES TO SMITH.

The following letter has been addressed to George Handy Smith, chairman of the joint committee to investigate the offices of Auditor General and State Treasurer:

"DEAR SIR: Recent disclosures affecting the administration of the duties of the offices of Auditor General and State Treasurer, particularly the letters and other documentary evidence recently produced in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the county of Philadelphia, and subsequently made public, justify me in asking that you permit Attorney General of the Commonwealth to assist in the investigation directed to be made by your committee under the terms of the joint resolutions approved January 26, 1891, and May 27, 1891, by the examination of such witnesses as may appear or be deemed proper to produce before your committee.

"As the evidence already made public seriously involves officials charged with faithful and efficient administration of two of the principal offices of the executive department of the State Government, and as it is my constitutional duty to 'take care that the laws be faithfully executed,' I deem it proper to aid in the inquiry contemplated by the terms of the joint resolutions under which you and your colleagues are proceeding.

"I have requested the Attorney General to appear at the next meeting of your committee, which I am informed will be held on the 28th instant, and I trust and believe that every facility will be afforded him. He will, I am sure, be prepared to attend the sessions of your committee from day to day until a thorough and systematic investigation of the offices which are the subject of inquiry is completed.

"Yours respectfully,

"ROBERT E. PATTISON."

The Never Failing Remedy.

Those who continue to suffer with contagious blood disease, after having gone through the usual course of treatment, have one consolation: They can fall back on the never-failing specific, S. S. S. Sometimes they suffer from the disease itself, and sometimes from the effects of the treatment itself, especially if mercury and other mineral poisons have been employed. In either case they can find an infallible remedy in S. S. S. It would be better to take advantage of the remedy before undergoing other treatment, as thousands have done and are doing, but it is not everybody's foresight that is as good as his hindsight.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our Regular Correspondent.

Washington, D. C. Sept. 28, 1891.

Senator Sherman has written a letter that is far from taking the rosy view of the republican prospects in Ohio that is prevalent, in the republican press. It was written to a departmental official, and was intended to be personally shown by the receiver to every republican from Ohio that is employed by the Government. In it the Senator says that he regards it as imperatively necessary that every republican voter of the State of Ohio, now temporarily in Washington, shall at once return to the State in order to help brace up the weak-kneed members of the party who are showing a disposition either to vote against their old party or to stay at home. In consequence of this letter it is said that the department officials have intimated that all Ohio voters employed therein may take thirty days leave with pay whether their annual leave has all been used up or not. Evidently Senator Sherman isn't figuring on any fifty thousand majority.

Speaking of Ohio, it is creditable to the prominent republicans now in Washington, that they, to a man, condemn the recent attempt by certain members of their party in Ohio to make Governor Campbell's private business transactions the basis of an attack upon him.

Attorney-General Miller, if rumor be true, is again to be made the victim of Indiana politicians by being compelled to give up the seat upon the Federal bench which Mr. Harrison had promised him in order that another Indiana republican—John M. Butler, once the law partner of the late ex-senator McDonald—may be provided for. This is hard lines for Mr. Miller who has ever since Mr. Harrison became, President had his mouth puckered up preparatory to taking a life time suck at the public teat. As a patient waiter he is a success.

Representative Mills' opponents for the Speakership, have, some of them, tried to make it appear that in his recent speeches in Ohio he took a different position on the free coinage of silver from that which he had for a long time previously occupied. This is an attack upon the rugged honesty of Mr. Mills that his friends resent. One of them said: "Mr. Mills' Ohio speeches do not announce any change whatever in his views touching free coinage. He opens his speeches with the distinct statement that he is now and ever has been a free coinage man. What he does say, however, and with great emphasis, is that free coinage will not produce the far reaching effect that its warmest advocates hope for, and that it will not relieve the distress under which the country is alleged to be suffering. This Mr. Mills says, can only be accomplished by lighter taxation and a freer foreign trade. Now so far from this being a new pronunciamento of Mr. Mills, its just what he said in an address delivered before the legislature of Texas—a free coinage body—only the Texas statement was, if anything a more earnest speech than that contained in his Ohio speeches against relying on relief from free coinage. When it is remembered that Mr. Mills' ambition is to be elected to the Senate by the legislature of Texas, it can easily be seen that the bold stand he took before that body, which was composed of men the most of whom will have a vote on the question of his selection as Senator, was just like the man, and that his Ohio speeches are only in the same line."

It is now said that it is a neck and neck race for the democratic vacancy on the Interstate Commerce Commission between Representative Culbertson of Texas and ex-Representative Clements, of Georgia. The latter gentleman was thought to have been ahead until a delegation of Washington negroes filed a protest against his appointment, because they mixed him up with his colleague, Mr. Grimes, who a year or so ago left a Washington hotel at which he was boarding because a negro was seated at the same table at which he was eating his dinner. They thought it was Mr. Clements, and told Mr. Harrison they would consider it an insult to the negro race if he was appointed. Under ordinary circumstances this would amount to nothing, but just now "nigger" influence is mighty strong at the White House.

Judge Bucher of Lewisburg, who has adorned the bench of the Union-Snyder-Mifflin district for twenty years, has been nominated by the Democrats for a third term. There is no more able and fearless Judge in the state. His opponent is H. M. McClure, a young attorney of Sunbury, who accepted the nomination after it had been declined by Mr. Elder and several other well-known lawyers. The Union county Republicans have endorsed Judge Bucher. If McClure does not withdraw before the election, he will find some very cold weather in November.

A woman "run-down," overworked, weak, nervous and debilitated—that's a woman that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is made for. It gives her health and strength. All woman's weaknesses and all woman's ailments are cured by it. It's a legitimate medicine—not a beverage; an invigorating, restorative tonic and a soothing and strengthening nervine, free from alcohol and injurious drugs. It imparts tone and vigor to the whole system.

For all functional irregularities, periodical pains, organic displacements and uterine diseases, it's a positive remedy.

And a guaranteed one. If it doesn't give satisfaction, in every case, the money paid for it is refunded. No other medicine for women is sold on these terms. That's because nothing else is "just as good." Perhaps the dealer will offer something that's "better." He means that it's better for him.

A Puerile Defense.

The deeper the investigation goes into the corrupt practices of the Auditor General and State Treasurer's department of the government and the City Treasurer's office in Philadelphia, the more appalling the scandal grows. Notwithstanding the manœuvreing of the Republican executors of the law, notwithstanding the Herculean efforts that are being made by interested parties to prevent further investigation, the fact is still apparent that two officers of the government, high in official positions, representatives of the Republican party, stand convicted before the people of gross negligence and malfeasance in office. One has taken the safer course of evading the legal process of the State and keeps himself out of its jurisdiction, thus avoiding the unpleasant necessity for testifying to damaging things. The other, in his weak struggles to extricate himself from the toils, has belittled himself to that extent that he is the laughing stock of the business men of the community. How puerile is the defense which he makes in claiming that the Treasurer of the City of Philadelphia acted as his agent for the purchase of neckties and other nick-nacks, giving this as an explanation of his acknowledgements of "favors received," in his letters written to Treasurer Bardsley.

What a strange coincidence is it that whenever City Treasurer Bardsley made an entry in his private books, charging Auditor General McCamant with his share of moneys received out of the advertising pools, and wrote his name upon the stubs of his check book to keep a record of the fact, that Mr. McCamant should just at that time need a necktie of a peculiar pattern and capacious length, and that his eye should just have fallen upon some late publication in book form of some noted work that he desired to possess, and forthwith the spirit should move him to ask his friend Bardsley to purchase it for him and send it by return mail. "Chops and tomato sauce," there is something wonderfully significant in this. But these are dangerous times. The people of the State of Pennsylvania have learned to read, and reading and studying current events, have learned to think intelligently. Such an attempt as this made by a high official whom they have trusted, and who has hoodwinked them, and played upon their credulity, will be taken as an open insult. It is all well enough to charge that the system of the collection of the Mercantile taxes in Pennsylvania, particularly in the City of Philadelphia, offers a premium for this kind of work, that through lapse of time it has grown rotten to the core, nevertheless in such an attack upon the system, no justification can be found for the public official or public officials who have, because of the opportunity been led into dishonest practice, and because private aggrandizement was in sight, have forgotten the injunction "Thou shalt not steal." No matter if justice has gone astray and these delinquents have escaped punishment in the courts of justice, they have notwithstanding been adjudged guilty in the higher tribunal of public opinion.

There can be no health for either mind or body so long as the blood is vitiated. Cleanse the vital current from all impurities by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine recruits the wasted energies, strengthens the nerves, and restores health to the debilitated system.

All arrangements have been completed to make this, the 21st fair, the best ever held by the Association, or in the county. The Association now belongs to the National Trotting Association, and the races will take places under the rules of that Association. Already the list of fine trotting horses is large, which promises something unusually interesting and exciting in the races. The purses amount to $1250. Tickets will be sold at excursion rates on all railroads leading to Hughesville.

Be Sure

If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a peculiar medicine, possessing, by virtue of its peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation, curative power superior to any other article. A Boston lady who knew what she wanted, and whose example is worthy imitation, tells her experience below:

To Get

"In one store where I went to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla the clerk tried to induce me buy their own instead of Hood's; he told me their's would last longer; that I might take it on ten days' trial; that if I did not like it I need not pay anything, etc. But he could not prevail on me to change. I told him I knew what Hood's Sarsaparilla was. I had taken it, was satisfied with it, and did not want any other.

Hood's

When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was feeling real miserable, suffering a great deal with dyspepsia, and so weak that at times I could hardly stand. I looked, and had for some time, like a person in consumption. Hood's Sarsaparilla did me so much good that I wonder at myself sometimes, and my friends frequently speak of it." MRS. ELLA A. GOFF, 61 Terrace Street, Boston.

THE BAY STATE TICKET.

Russell and Corcoran Will Lead the Democrats.

J. SLOAT FASSETT'S STUMPING TOUR

His Speech at Ogdensburg—A Report That Certain Colored Men Are Displeased—Daniel G. Griffin Made Chairman in New York State.

WORCESTER, Mass., Sept. 30.—The Democratic state convention at Mechanics' hall nominated the following ticket: William E. Russell for governor, General John W. Corcoran for lieutenant governor, Elbridge Cushman for secretary of state, James S. Grinnell for treasurer and receiver general, W. D. T. Trefry for auditor, George M. Stearns for attorney general. The last four nominated were reported by the committee on balance of ticket, and on motion of Hon. T. J. Corgan the report was unanimously adopted. Mr. Corcoran is at present chairman of the Democratic state committee.

W. E. RUSSELL.

Governor Russell's Speech.

In the course of his speech of acceptance Governor Russell, after referring to state issues, said:

We unhesitatingly declare for a sound currency and an honest dollar, and we protest not only against the free coinage of silver, but against the present Republican legislation, which is bringing us dangerously near to a silver basis and an unsound currency. I believe that in this commonwealth both parties are honestly opposed to any legislation, present or prospective, which threatens these consequences. Then let the Republican party declare this conviction and repudiate such legislation, that the unanimous voice of the commonwealth may be heard in protest against dangerous financial doctrines with no discordant note except an honest rivalry as to the best means of carrying out her wish.

We believe that revision and reduction of tariff taxation are the supreme political issue, and we again declare that it should be on lines of free raw material and cheapening the cost of the necessaries of life. We confidently believe that this will be a benefit not only to all our people, but especially to New England industries; the demand of our industries for such reduction has been unheeded in the McKinley bill.

Fassett at Ogdensburg.

OGDENSBURG, N. Y., Sept. 30.—J. Sloat Fassett and J. W. Vrooman were accorded a magnificent reception in this city. In the evening the opera house was packed to overflowing to listen to Mr. Fassett's speech. He said:

I came up here from my home and New York city that I might get near to the great Republican heart, for it beats warm, strong and true here in St. Lawrence. There is no trouble here among your people, with 128,000 acres of Republicans, with a majority that is as large as your generosity. You stand here in the north the northern light of New York state Republicanism—an everlasting menace to the darkness on Manhattan island. They are afraid of you down there in New York, and they look with apprehension to the returns from St. Lawrence. The issue this fall is, shall we have a good government? It was much simplified for us by our friends at Saratoga. There was no room in that convention for any member of any delegation out of twenty-five assembly districts who decided to befriend ex-President Cleveland; there was no room there for an organization founded by Samuel J. Tilden.

There was no room there for the Democracy, representing half of the Democracy of New York, who came to the convention for the purpose of fighting Tammany Hall. Their cries consisted in not bowing the knee to Tammany Hall. There was no regard paid to the Kings county Democracy. Never did a rider in the saddle, booted and spurred, ride so roughly shod over all obstacles as Richard Croker, the chief sachem of Tammany Hall, rode at Saratoga over every opponent. Even Governor Hill was made to yield in one or two minor matters.

Tariff Reform and Silver.

Mr. Fassett charged that the Democratic platform was as silent as the grave on the question of tariff reform. He said that no one knew what the silver plank meant. But Mr. Hill and his friends said that it should read:

"We are against the coinage of any dollar which is not of the same intrinsic value as any other dollar."

Mr. Cleveland and his friends say it reads:

"We are against the coinage of any silver dollar which is not of the same intrinsic value as any other dollar."

Continuing, Mr. Fassett said:

Our friend, the governor, would like to say to the people of the south and west why this plank doesn't mean anything. Of course we are against the coinage of any dollar that is not of the same intrinsic value of any other dollar. There is only one dollar coined and its intrinsic value we don't discuss.

The Associated Press agent says that he secured his copy of the platform from the governor's private secretary. And Mr. Tracy, a member of the committee of resolutions, says that the word silver was in the plank as it was adopted in the committee. Is it possible that Governor Hill has been guilty of tampering with such an important document as the Democratic platform?

May Repudiate Mr. Fassett.

ALBANY, Sept. 30.—It is said that at its annual meeting next week the Afro-American league may repudiate Mr. Fassett, the Republican nominee for governor. In 1890 the league introduced into the legislature a bill preventing the life insurance companies of this state from discriminating against the colored race. A committee was favorably received by the Democratic assembly, but the Republican senate refused to recognize them. The legislative committe of the state league wrote a letter to Mr. Fassett asking his attitude upon the measures demanded by the league, but no answer has been received.

Hudson County Republicans Meet.

JERSEY CITY, Sept. 30.—The Republican party of Hudson county, N. J., had a convention in Wood's hall to revise its constitution. Ex-Mayor Collins presided and said that one of the objects of the revision was to stop the indorsement or nomination of Democratic candidates by Republicans. At the evening session the revision committee was not prepared to report. The convention will therefore meet again on Oct. 7.

Griffin for Chairman.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—The long deferred meeting of the Democratic state executive committee was held at the Hoffman House. William F. Sheehan, S. W. Rosendale, D. Cady Herrick, Daniel Lamont, Amos J. Cummings, Edward Murphy and Senator Stadler were among those who paced the famous corridors early. D. G. Griffin, of Watertown, secured the chairmanship.

Peck and Ely for Judges.

BUFFALO, Sept. 30.—The Eighth judicial district Democratic convention nominated Myron H. Peck, of Buffalo, and W. Caryl Ely, of Niagara Falls, as candidates for the supreme court judgeships.

Fassett at Flower's Home.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Sept. 29.—The city where Hon. Roswell P. Flower lives was ablaze with fireworks and the scene of the greatest demonstration of the campaign on the occasion of the visit of Hon. J. Sloat Fassett and Hon. J. W. Vrooman, last night. Two immense meetings were held, one within the opera house and another without. Mr. Fassett captured his hearers completely. He praised the city of Watertown for its beauty and eulogized Mr. Flower. He said:

I am wearing this flower in my buttonhole tonight. [Applause.] It is a beautiful flower and I wear it to emphasize what it symbolizes, the excellencies of the individual character of Roswell P. Flower, your distinguished citizen. I know not, I care not, what party managers may say, it is my right to say pleasant things about Mr. Flower, about Mr. Sheehan, and about every one on either ticket whom I know. It is my right if I please to say that Governor David B. Hill is a delightful conversationist and a pleasant gentleman to meet. It is my right to call the attention of the people to the excellent things in the men and in the measures of the opposing party. It is also my right and I reserve it as a parallel duty and privilege to just as mercilessly hold up for public scorn and crucifixion that which I believe to be dross and vicious in the measures and in the principles of the same men as my political opponents. [Applause.]

Blaine on the Ohio Issue.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 26.—A special to The Times from Akron, O., says: The following letter has been received by Colonel Conger, of the Republican national committee, from Secretary Blaine:

BAR HARBOR, Me., Sept. 23.

To Colonel A. L. Conger, Akron, O.:

MY DEAR SIR—Your favor received. I can not take part in the Ohio campaign this year for many reasons which need not be given, but I hope no effort will be spared to elect McKinley. His victory at this time is very important to the country and to the party. He and Mr Campbell represent the honest differences between the two parties. There is no dodging or evasion and the voter need not be deceived. The election of McKinley means the policy of protection and honest money. The election of Campbell means free trade and corruption of the currency. I believe Ohio will stand by McKinley. Very sincerely yours,

JAMES G. BLAINE.

Governor Hill at Rochester.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 26.—Governor Hill arrived in the city at 10:45 last night from Albany. He was met at the Powers hotel by a delegation of citizens, among them being Mayor Carroll, who acted as spokesman and in a neat speech welcomed the governor. The governor spoke as follows:

I am not now on a political tour. Tomorrow I will assume the role of an agriculturist, a role which my good friend Senator McNaughton assumes when he goes to Orleans county. I know you are all interested in the success of the ticket. I am just as interested as if I were on the ticket, and whenever I can persuade a doubting Democrat to rally to the support of the ticket I mean to do so. I have no doubt about the result, if the Democrats will arouse to a sense of the contest on which we have entered. We have carried every state election for nine years. So far as the issues relate to my administration I am willing to stand upon them and I think that the Democratic party is willing to stand upon them. This campaign is one of the people against the aristocracy.

A Good Word for Sheehan.

I am pleased with the ticket, and it is one which should please all good Democrats. Mr. Flower is as good a Democrat as any in the state, and his associates on the ticket are all worthy of support. Let me say a kind word for my friend, the candidate for lieutenant governor. He has rendered valuable services to the party. The prospect for victory was never brighter. Our party is united and that means success. Mr. Fassett has said that the campaign is the skirmish before the battle, that as goes New York this year so goes the country in '92. I am willing to accept the issue. Each man must take off his coat and do his part in the canvass.

Campbell to the Farmers.

COLUMBUS, Sept. 26.—Governor Campbell addressed quite a large crowd at the Union County fair at Marysville. He sought to impress the farmers that the reason they were receiving large prices for their wheat was due to the failure of the crops abroad, and because the American wheat was needed. He said that high protective tariff prevented foreign nations from coming here for their breadstuffs, and they would not do so unless compelled to, as in the present instance.

Governor Campbell called attention to the decrease of $98,000,000 in the value of agricultural lands in Ohio in the last decade. He said Mr. Porter's census showed there had been an increase in the wealth of Ohio of $243,000,000. The question to ask the farmers was, Who had obtained this increase in wealth? Certainly it was not theirs.

Farmers Will Take a Hand.

ALBANY, Sept. 26.—"The farmers of the state will take a hand in this campaign." This was the decision of the conference held here with closed doors between delegates from the State Alliance and the two state leagues. Fifty-five counties were represented and a delegation from the Knights of Labor was admitted. It was decided to be too late to call a farmers' convention this year, but such a step will be taken next year. The farmers will, however, attempt to make their presence felt this year.

CHILI SEEMS SORRY NOW

A Practical Apology for Insults to Uncle Sam.

THE WHITE SQUADRON WILL WAIT.

Secretary Tracy's Fleet of Swift Warships Could Get to Valparaiso in a Month, but They Will Not Go Unless the Junta Gets Saucy Again.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Chili is coming to her senses. The junta has withdrawn the guard from Minister Egan's house and the petty persecutions to which he has been subjected have ceased. Such is the substance of a telegram received from Mr. Egan at a late hour. It is quite probable also that no further attempts will be made to molest the refugees who have sought shelter at the American legation. President Harrison believes that the troubles at Santiago are now practically over. He believes, too, that Chili's backdown is due to the firm stand taken by this government, and that, had we not acted so promptly, the gravest consequences must have ensued.

Minister Egan's Ultimatum.

The exact nature of Minister Egan's instructions are not made public. It is known, however, that he informed the junta that the United States would tolerate no further indignities either upon himself or the refugees who had sought the shelter of our flag. This brought the junta to its senses, and according to Mr. Egan's telegram it is now extricating itself as gracefully as possible from its awkward position. The troubles, of course, are not wholly over. More or less friction will no doubt result as long as Mr. Egan remains at Santiago, but the acute symptoms have passed.

Some of the Outrages.

From Minister Egan's dispatches and from those of Captain Schley, of the Baltimore, the junta placed a guard around the American legation at Santiago and arrested two of Minister Egan's servants. The junta also put a guard around the Baltimore to prevent refugees from going aboard, and Captain Schley complains of insolent and harsh treatment generally of the officers and men of the vessel and other Americans in that vicinity. There seems to be no doubt that the junta has been unnecessarily severe and uncivil in its treatment of Americans.

Denied by Secretary Tracy.

The report that orders have been issued to the squadron of evolution or any of the vessels thereof to prepare for service at Valparaiso is positively denied by both Secretary Tracy and Commander Ramsey. The departments will wait for further development before anything of this kind is done. There is nothing that would please naval officers here more than to see the squadron of evolution dispatched at once for Chilian waters in order to get a good practical test of what the new navy could do in the way of meeting an emergency. They claim the squadron could reach Valparaiso in thirty days.

The Uprising in Guatemala.

CITY OF MEXICO, via GALVESTON, Texas, Sept. 30.—A dispatch by courier to Newton, on the frontier, from Guatemala and having diplomatic origin, fully confirms the reported riot in Guatemala on Sept. 15. It seems that Manuel Montufar, the son of a former Guatemala minister in Washington and a strong partisan of Barillas, was addressing the multitude on Sept. 15, which is Independence Day, when some of his remarks were hissed by the opposition and a struggle commenced for the possession of the platform.

Artillery Brought Into Play.

It was finally held by the rioters, and the mob was augmented in numbers and threatened the palace. Artillery was brought into play and soon cleared the main plaza. The main streets were cleared by the infantry, but the rioters held many alleys and buildings. Throughout the night and the following two days there were small mobs in various parts of the city which were promptly dispersed by the military.

Several persons were killed. The loss of life seems to have been almost entirely on the part of the mob.

SHE SEEKS A DIVORCE.

The Unhappy Marriage of John Jacob Astor's Niece.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Sept. 29.—The romance of at least one American girl who gave wealth for a title has been grievously dispelled. Baroness de Stuers, wife of the Belgian minister in Paris and niece of the late John Jacob Astor, the New York millionaire, has filed papers in a suit for divorce against her husband.

While in Paris she says that the baron applied foul epithets and accused his wife of not being chaste; that on June 24, 1890, defendant by fraud and false representation attempted to procure her incarceration in an institution for the confinement of insane persons. This last fact will be brought out at the trial.

Robinson Won.

SCRANTON, Pa., Sept. 24.—The election of Hon. John B. Robinson, of Delaware county, as president of the Republican state league by an overwhelming vote was the climax of the convention in the Scranton armory. The rigid application of the rule excluding all clubs organized since July 16 reduced the representation to 198 clubs with three delegates each. Of this number Robinson received the votes of 141 clubs, Dalzell 42, and Major Warren 15 clubs.

A Newark Brewery Sold.

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 29.—Erastus Wiman and Brewers Bachman and Bailey, of Staten Island, and the Ehrets, forming the heads of a syndicate, purchased the Citizens' Brewing company at 99-103 Springfield avenue, Newark, for $200,000. It is proposed to increase the output of the brewery to 150,000 barrels per annum.

Another Louisville Bank Failure.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 30.—The Kentucky Savings bank, the fourth bank that has failed in Louisville inside of six months, has closed its doors. Unlike the other failures, however, the depositors in this instance will be paid in full.

Cal McCarthy Acquitted.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 30.—The jury in the case of Cal McCarthy, charged with prize fighting, rendered a verdict of not guilty without leaving their seats.

Barber for the Assembly.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 30.—Aaron Barber was nominated for assembly by the Democrats of Livingston county, at Avon.

AN EXTRA SESSION CALLED.

Governor Pattison Wants Two Pennsylvania Officials Investigated.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 28.—Quite a sensation has been created here and throughout the state by the proclamation issued Saturday night by Governor Pattison convening the senate in extraordinary session on Tuesday, Oct. 13, 1891. The preamble sets forth that grave charges have been made against the auditor general and state treasurer, most seriously reflecting upon the discharge of their official duties; that it is proper diligent inquiry should be made to ascertain whether or not "reasonable cause" exists for their removal; that there is a conviction in the public mind that they have been grossly inefficient and entirely wanting in due fidelity, and that if the charges be established the senate should take action looking to the removal of the officials.

It is also set forth that much of the state money, lost through Bardsley, would be in the treasury if the auditor general and state treasurer had performed their duties with fidelity, and further that Bardsley's refusal to disclose any information whatever as to the conduct of these officials has compelled the abandonment of proposed criminal prosecutions, at least for a time. Proper inquiry by the senate, the governor thinks, may develop evidence sufficient to satisfy its members that reasonable cause exists for the removal of the auditor general and state treasurer.

No Trace of Livesey.

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 28.—A systematic and thorough effort to find ex-Cashier Livesey, of Pennsylvania, in this city has failed utterly, and there is the best of authority for the statement that he has never been in Milwaukee; that all of the letters addressed to him here have been forwarded to an address in Canada, where he has been for some time.

Treasurer Boyer Testified.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 30.—At last evening's session of the legislative investigating committee which is inquiring into the conduct of the auditor general's office and the state treasurer Treasurer Boyer explained that he paid the school warrants of $420,000 to Bardsley in December, 1890 for the year 1891, six months before they were due, because he wished to keep the money out of the sinking fund. Had it gone there, he said, there was danger that there would not be enough money in the general fund to meet all the appropriations of the legislature about to meet.

He denied all knowledge of the Bardsley-Livesey correspondence and said he did not know the latter's whereabouts. He stated that the law compelling the investment of sinking fund moneys in United States bonds had never been complied with during his administration. The committee adjourned to meet in Philadelphia on Oct. 12.

To Get Bardsley to Confess.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 30.—It is alleged here that a big scheme is on foot to get Bardsley to turn state's evidence and tell all he knows at the extraordinary session of the senate, which has been called to try the two officials. The pardon board consists of two Republicans and two Democrats and the Democrats, it is said, think that if they can get Bardsley to unseal his lips they can commute at least a portion of his sentence. Several conferences have already been had with Bardsley in his cell at the Eastern penitentiary.

A Judgment Against Bardsley.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 30.—In the Dauphin county court of common pleas judgment was taken against John Bardsley for $394,010.40, being for license tax collected by him in 1890. This amount includes interest and the attorney general's commission the two items being over $28,000.

WILLIAM H. KEMBLE DEAD.

He Was Ex-Treasurer of Pennsylvania and a Well Known Politician.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28. — Ex-State Treasurer William H. Kemble died suddenly Sunday of heart failure. Mr. Kemble's death occurred at his pretty country home "Marylawn" shortly after midnight. He had been around as usual during the day and had retired about 10:30 o'clock. Shortly after going to bed he felt an attack of the heart trouble and his physician was sent for. His physician was powerless, however, and he died soon afterward.

Mr. Kemble had been warned long ago that he must give up active participation in business affairs if he wished to prolong his life. He heeded this warning and was gradually severing his connection with the various street railway enterprises which he had, along with his partners, Messrs Elkins & Widener, connected himself. Mr Kemble was sixty-three years old. He had been identified with politics from his youth and was always high in the councils of the Republican party. He was twice elected state treasurer of Pennsylvania on the Republican ticket. He leaves a large family of children and grandchildren. His wealth is estimated at several millions of dollars.

He Could Not Bear the Insult.

MILLVILLE, N. J., Sept. 28.—A fourteen-year-old boy named Ambrose Parr committed suicide here by hanging himself in the garret of his home, 40 Garfield street. He was employed as a tending boy at Whitall, Tatum & Co.'s flint glass works and refused to go out with the other tending boys when they struck recently against the employment of Jews. The strikers called young Parr a "scab," and he brooded over the matter so much that it unbalanced his mind.

A Policeman's Terrible Duty.

HOBOKEN, N. J., Sept. 28.—A young man and woman under the influence of liquor were being put off a horse car here when Policeman John J. Ryan hurried up. He glanced at the woman and then moaned, "My God, Nellie, this is terrible." The young woman was his wife. The policeman turned pale, but brought his wife and her paramour to the police station. The man said his name was Myles Severaux, aged thirty-seven. Ryan will apply for a divorce.

"Red Leary" in the Toils.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Thomas O'Brien, alias "Red Leary," one of the most desperate "crooks" in this city, has been arrested charged with the theft of $10,000 from an Albany merchant Feb. 3, 1890. The job was done by O'Brien and a "pal" named George Post. They induced their victim to draw the money from a bank and bring it to the hotel. He was then knocked senseless with a sandbag and robbed.

Jersey City Wants Better Water.

JERSEY CITY, Sept. 29.—A committee of the Jersey City board of trade, consisting of Dr. L. S. Gordon, Joseph A. Dear, Henry Lembeck, Alderman S. H. Smith and Lawyer James Flemming, waited upon the street and water commissioners and urged them to take some immediate action toward furnishing Jersey City with a better water supply.

KEYSTONE STATE NEWS

Items Which Are of Particular Interest to Pennsylvanians.

IN THIS AND NEARBY COUNTIES.

Brief Mention of Matters Which Everybody Should Know About—A Week's Accidents and Crimes Accurately and Concisely Chronicled.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 23.—The state department has granted a charter to the Susquehanna and Buffalo Railroad company for a line of fifteen miles long from Cook's river, Clinton county, on the Philadelphia and Reading railroad, to Trout river, same county. John T. Ryan, of Williamsport, Pa., is president, and the capital stock is $180,000.

Murder Is Suspected.

HUNTINGDON, Sept. 23.—Mr. William Webster Trimble, of Camden, N. J., a civil engineer employed by the Pennsylvania railroad, was killed on the railroad near this city. The body was terribly mangled and thrown sixty feet into the river. Murder is suspected.

Two Years for Appraiser Dunlap.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 23.—F. W. Dunlap, a delinquent deputy mercantile tax appraiser, pleaded guilty to conspiracy to defraud the city and was sentenced by Judge Reed to two years in the eastern penitentiary.

Five Hundred Miners Strike.

SHAMOKIN, Sept. 24.—The five hundred miners employed at the Enterprise colliery are on a strike because of the small wages and the alleged exorbitant price charged miners for mining material.

A Chinaman Attempts Suicide.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 24.—Lee Bo, a Chinaman, aged forty, attempted suicide by cutting his throat with a razor at his laundry. He will die. This is said to be the first case of a Chinaman attempting to end his life in this country. Lee Bo has been very melancholy because he could not get his wife here, and was unable to go to her in China.

Solvent, but Making No Profits.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 25.—The Press says the shareholders of the Produce National bank will vote Sept. 29 on the question of liquidation. The bank is solvent, but is not making any profit. It was organized five years ago and has less than $300,000 deposits.

Mrs. Fitzsimmons Convicted.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 25.—The jury in the case of Mrs. Lucy R. Fitzsimmons, charged with the murder of Detective Gilkinson, brought in a verdict of guilty of murder in the second degree. The maximum penalty is fourteen years. Mrs. Fitzsimmons' face never changed a muscle as she heard the verdict that will send her to the penitentiary.

Killed by Dynamite.

BRADFORD, Sept. 26.—Sandy Ferry and James Darling, while blasting stumps with dynamite, were instantly killed and horribly mutilated by a premature discharge of the explosive.

A Chance to Pay Up.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 26.—Moorehead, McCleane & Co., the embarrassed iron firm, have been granted an extension of five years by their creditors. The liabilities, which are about $1,400,000, will be paid in installments of 10 per cent. the first year, 15 per cent. the second year, and 25 per cent. the last three years. The plant is in full operation.

Embezzled for Eighteen Years.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 26.—David Hastings, ex-clerk of markets in Allegheny, was arrested and held in $5,000 bail for embezzling. The period of his embezzlement covers nearly the entire term of his service of eighteen years, and aggregates about $32,000.

A Destructive Blaze.

BETHLEHEM, Sept. 26.—The largest fire for years visited the borough of Slatington. Gross, Fitzinger & Co.'s hardware store, Horlacher's saloon, Neff's hotel and several private residences were destroyed. The loss is very heavy, mostly insured.

An Insurance Company Assigns.

LANCASTER, Sept. 27.—The Lancaster County Mutual Live Stock and Chattel Theft Insurance company has made an assignment for the benefit of its creditors. The assets of the company are $10,000 in premium notes and the indebtedness about the same amount, which will be paid by an assessment of the policies, aggregating over half a million dollars.

Clark Found Guilty.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 28.—The jury in the case of Clark and Wyatt, indicted as accessories to the murder of Detective Gilkinson, brought in their verdict during the noon recess of court. The jury find Mr. Clark guilty, disagree as to Mrs. Clark's complicity and acquit Miss Wyatt. Mr. and Mrs. Clark were remanded to jail, the former for sentence, the latter for a new trial. It is now believed that Mr. and Mrs. Clark rendered valuable assistance to Fitzsimmons, the escaped murderer of Detective Gilkinson.

Won by the American.

Long Tells His Side of the Case.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 29.—Dr. W. C. Negus, of Binghamton, N. Y., came to Homestead about ten days ago and recovered his seven-year-old son from C. C. Long. The doctor told a story that the lad was the son of a Portland, Or., millionaire, and had been kidnapped six years ago. Long now tells his side of the case. He says that some years ago, while living at Richburg, N. Y., he met and fell in love with the divorced wife of Dr. Negus, and they were married, and shortly afterward, with her little boy, removed to Homestead. Last March Long's wife died, and when Dr. Negus heard of it he became anxious to have his boy back. So he came on to Homestead, saw Long and without any difficulty recovered the little fellow.

The Peacemaker Again.

LANCASTER, Sept. 29.—Benjamin Fritz, of Bart township, attempted to separate two men who were fighting, and was struck on the head with an ax by George Santman, receiving fatal injuries. Santman has not yet been arrested.

A NEW IDEA.

It Was Worked by a Hoosier and Is Worth Thinking About.

"Hain't this the tavern what Palmer runs?" asked a tall, long necked young man of Clerk Cunningham yesterday. The stranger's face was filled with snuff colored whiskers and his linen duster and badly used cowhide boots looked as if they had been worn by the Wandering Jew. He held a fat old carpetbag and three bundles in one hand and a timid looking young woman in the other. She wore a light blue gown of shimmering satin, with yellow trimmings, and held a 2 year old bouncing baby that was eating the red paint from a toy cornet.

Drummers, politicians, and loungers stopped their conversations to enjoy a few minutes of character study.

"This is the Palmer House, sir," spoke the clerk in reply to the man's query.

"I reckoned so; but you cain't see no sign outside, an' that kinder put me out. Down in Injianna all the taverns have signs."

"I'll tell Mr. Palmer about that."

"Now, before we talk business, I want ter know if you will kinder look out fer us in this hotel. When some of our folks goes to Injunapolis they call them jays, but I haint no jay. I've traveled. I don't blow out no gas, but I be mixed up a little in a place so big as this. But I will put up here if you will look out fer us and come up and tell me when the dinner gong rings."

"Happy to serve you, sir," answered the clerk with his parlor floor smile. "I will make your comfort here a personal matter. I'll send a cab up to your room if you want to ride, or anything else. Register, please."

Then the fellow wrote "Joshua Putnam, his wife and their child, Rising Sun, Ind." As he laid down his pen he pulled Mr. Cunningham's ear over the counter and whispered: "Ken I trust you with a secret?"

"Tell me all," said the clerk in the key that he used to talk in when with the Fagan and O'Regan Burlesque Galaxy.

"Wal, this is our weddin' trip. We war spliced Monday an' am now honeymooning; so want good care. Don't give a durn for the expense, 'cause we'll stay a day."

Just as he said that they were married Monday the little baby waved its chubby hand and caused the clerk to exclaim: "Your wedding tour?"

"Yep," whispered the man. "That's the secret. Everybody pokes so much fun at the people what's just married that I vowed I'd fool 'em. So when Marthy and me decided on goin' to Chicago I jes' borrowed Mrs. Bascom's baby. Now nobody guesses that we be a bridal party. I told you that I was no jay ef I do come from a town what don't get the world's fair."

"That's a new one," muttered the clerk, as the new arrivals started on their trip to 981, the furthermost room from the office.—Chicago Herald.

The Fatal Number.

"Take these berries away," said a boarder at a cheap boarding house as he handed his small allowance to the waiter.

"What is the matter with the berries?" said the landlady.

"Nothing, madame; it is the number I object to. There are just 13, and I don't want to die before the year is out."

The landlady added another berry.

Art and Nature.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE.

BELVERNON, Pa., Nov. 27, '90.

DR. B. J. KENDALL CO.:

Gents—I would like to make known to those who are almost persuaded to use Kendall's Spavin Cure the fact that I think it is a most excellent Liniment. I have used it on a Blood Spavin. The horse went on three legs for three years when I commenced to use your Kendall's Spavin Cure. I used ten bottles on the horse and have worked him for three years since and has not been lame.

Yours truly, WM. A. CURL.

GERMANTOWN, N. Y., Nov. 2, 1889.

DR. B. J. KENDALL CO., Enosburgh Falls, Vt.

Gents: In praise of Kendall's Spavin Cure I will say, that a year ago I had a valuable young horse become very lame, hock enlarged and swollen. The horsemen about here (we have no Veterinary Surgeon here) pronounced his lameness Blood Spavin or Thoroughpin, they all told me there was no cure for it, he became about useless, and I considered him almost worthless. A friend told me of the merits of your Kendall's Spavin Cure, so I bought a bottle, and I could see very plainly great improvements immediately from its use, and before the bottle was used up I was satisfied that it was doing him a great deal of good. I bought a second bottle and before it was used up my horse was cured and has been in the team doing heavy work all the season since last April, showing no more signs of it. I consider your Kendall's Spavin Cure a valuable medicine, and it should be in every stable in the land. Respectfully yours,

EUGENE DEWITT.

Price $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. All druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors. DR. B. J. KENDALL CO., Enosburgh Falls, Vermont.

COME TO STAY.

Yes, indeed, when a foreigner comes to this land he usually comes to stay. He finds we have the best government, the best people, and, in fact, the best of everything.

Strangers are constantly coming to our city and to our store. They'll receive good treatment. Those who want Bread, Cakes or Confectionery, get the best that can be found, at fair prices. Old customers make new ones, and we find all COME TO STAY. We hope you'll try it. See if you don't, too.

E. JACOBS & SON,

A Real Balsam is Kemp's Balsam

The dictionary says, "A balsam is a thick, pure aromatic substance flowing from trees." Kemp's Balsam for the throat and lungs is the only cough medicine that is a real balsam. Many thin, watery cough remedies are called balsams, but such are not. Look through a bottle of Kemp's Balsam and notice what a pure, thick preparation it is. If you cough use Kemp's Balsam. At all druggists'. Large bottles 50 cents and $1.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

THE BEST SALVE in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For Sale by C. A. Kleim.

For ladies' and children's coats go to Clark & Son's.

Christian Endeavor Convention at Williamsport.

LOW FARES BY DIRECT READING RAILROAD ROUTE.

For the Annual Convention of Christian Endeavor Societies at Williamsport, Pa., the Reading Railroad will sell special excursion tickets to that point at $5.00 from Philadelphia, and at a single fare for the round trip from all stations between Philadelphia and Williamsport, the rate in no case exceeding $5.00. Tickets will be sold October 3d to 6th inclusive, good to return until and including October 12th. This is the route officially designated by the Y. P. S. C. E. for members and their friends.

I have had catarrh for twenty years and used all kinds of remedies without relief. Mr. Smith, druggist, of Little Falls, recommended Ely's Cream Balm. The effect of the first application was magical, it allayed the inflammation and the next morning my head was as clear as a bell. I am convinced its use will effect a permanent cure. It is soothing and pleasant, and I strongly urge its use by all sufferers.—Geo. Terry, Little Falls, N. Y.

Don't miss your chance, while at the fair, to get a pair of perfectly fitting glasses, either at J. G. Wells' jewelry store or at his optical exhibit on the fair grounds. 6t.

The following letters are held at the Bloomsburg, Pa., post office and will be sent to the dead letter office Oct. 13, 1891.

Mr. J. P. Hill, Mr. Elmer Wood.

Persons calling for these letters will please say they were advertised Sept. 29, 1891.

One cent will be charged on each letter advertised.

A. B. CATHCART, P. M.

A PARADOX.

We shall always wonder why men constantly complain of physical ills, and continually act so as to increase them. Notwithstanding everybody knows that dyspepsia, skin diseases, rheumatism, gout, neuralgia, &c., are from impure blood, produced by ill living, the diseases still exist. The next best thing is to purify the blood by Cactus Blood Cure and neutralize results.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Ben Butler's Eye.

NO MAN HAS EVER BEEN CARICATURED MORE THAN HE.

Ben Butler has probably been caricatured more in his day than any other public man ever was. No humorous cartoon has been made of public events for the past twenty years that did not have Butler in it in some shape or other. This is in part owing to the fact that "they reckon ill who leave him out" of anything, and in part to the fact that his countenance is so peculiar as to be easy to caricature. "First a dog, then a boy, then Butler," used to be the course of drawing that a famous cartoonist recommended to his pupils.

The first rude pictures of him appeared in a weekly paper in Massachusetts forty years ago, at the time when he was running for the state legislature on the ten hours' ticket. The picture represented a slender young man with a whisky bottle in one hand and a blazing torch in the other, setting fire to the public buildings of Lowell at the head of a mob. This was because Butler had said in a speech: "By the living Jehovah, if one man is driven from his employment by these mill-owners because of his vote, I will lead you to make Lowell what it was twenty-five years ago,—a sheep pasture and a fishing-place; and I will commence by applying the torch to my own house. Let them come on."

But it was during the war, when the doughty general was ruling the captured city of New Orleans with a hand of iron, that pen and pencil were all too feeble for the Southern papers to portray their hatred of him. "Beast Butler" was their most common epithet, and he was caricatured as a malformed and one-eyed gorilla indulging in the most horrible brutalities. Butler at this time wore a straggling set of whiskers which grew chiefly from under his chin and outward, and could not be called handsome.

General Butler's famous "Order No. 28," which declared in substance that any woman of New Orleans who, by word or deed, insulted a Union soldier, should be considered as a woman of the town and dealt with accordingly, created the wildest wrath; The order was so effective that no arrests were ever made under it, but its fame became so widespread that even the London Punch cartooned its maker.

Later on, after "Brick" Pomeroy started the famous "spoons" story, the cartoonists took it up and he was drawn with spoons sticking from every pocket, a spoon for a sword, spoons over his eyes, shouldering a spoon, and in all sorts of spoon attitudes. This "spoons" story, by the way, is one which Butler will tell of in his book that is now being published, and which is having so tremendous a sale, and it is said that he won't leave enough of the man who started the story to take up in a spoon.

A staring-eyed Butler in a big bottle was the cartoon outcome of Grant's remark, afterwards apologized for, that the doughty general appeared to be "bottled-up" between the Appomattox and the James in 1864.

But it was after the war closed and Butler's congressional and political career began, that he was caricatured week in and week out. Those were the days of Nast and Matt Morgan, and the general's political eccentricities were a mine of material for them. He was drawn in every possible form, from a hen to a hyena, but always was recognizable. He was cartooned on the other side of the ocean, and his peculiar features became known in even the French and German comic papers.

Even at the present day, when he has passed the three-score and ten alloted to man, no cartooned group of public men is complete without him, and his frog caricature in Puck is to be seen every few weeks.

All the caricaturing to which he has been subjected, has never ruffled him in the least, and he laughs as hilariously over a really pointed cartoon in which he is made to figure as does his bitterest enemy.

THE BEST APERIENT

In modern pharmacy is, undoubtedly, Ayer's Cathartic Pills. Except in extreme cases, physicians have abandoned the use of drastic purgatives, and recommend a milder, but no less effective medicine. The favorite is Ayer's Pills, the superior medicinal virtues of which have been certified to under the official seals of state chemists, as well as by hosts of eminent doctors and pharmacists. No other pill so well supplies the demand of the general public for a safe, certain, and agreeable family medicine.

"Ayer's Pills are the best medicine I ever used; and in my judgment no better general remedy was

Ever Devised

I have used them in my family and caused them to be used among my friends and employes for more than twenty years. To my certain knowledge many cases of the following complaints have been completely and permanently cured by the use of Ayer's Pills alone: Third day chills, dumb ague, bilious fever, sick headache, rheumatism, flux, dyspepsia, constipation, and hard colds. I know that a moderate use of Ayer's Pills, continued for a few days or weeks, as the nature of the complaint required, would be found an absolute cure for the disorders I have named above."—J. O. Wilson, Contractor and Builder, Sulphur Springs, Texas.

"For eight years I was afflicted with constipation, which at last became so bad that the doctors could do no more for me. Then I began to take and soon the bowels recovered their natural and regular action, so that now I am in excellent health."—Wm. H. DeLaucett, Dorset, Ontario.

"Ayer's Pills are the best cathartic I ever used in my practice."—J. T. Sparks, M. D., Yeddo, Ind.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."

DR. G. C. OSGOOD,
Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

DR. J. F. KINCHELOE,
Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

H. A. ARCHER, M. D.,
111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."
